

Series CO2

The sensor is designed for indoor carbon dioxide concentration measurement and respective air capacity regulation through the control output signal to the fan. Air capacity control based on CO2 concentration is an efficient energy saving solution

